Thanks for your email asking about any briefings to incoming ministers prepared by the Commission. I can confirm that following the election the Commission has prepared a briefing for the incoming Associate Minister of Agriculture, Hon Meka Whaitiri, who is the minister responsible for the New Zealand Walking Access Commission. At this stage, we have not prepared any briefings for any other incoming ministers.

While the briefing is not currently available publicly, we anticipate making it publicly available in the near future – most likely prior to the end of 2020. When it becomes available, it will be listed on our website at <https://www.walkingaccess.govt.nz/about-us/publications/>.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me directly at this address.

You have the right to seek an investigation and review by the Ombudsman of this decision. Information about how to make a complaint is available at www.ombudsman.parliament.nz or freephone 0800 802 602.

Hi, [REDACTED]

Could you please tell me whether the Commission has written or has contributed to any 2020 briefing papers for the incoming Minister for Land Information and Minister for Agriculture. Also, if yes, are the briefings available to the public?

Regards
